

2016-17 Board of Education Presentations

“How Can We Create the Conditions for Student Engagement?”

The focus of our school planning teams for 2016-17 is framed by the essential question, “How Can We Create the Conditions for Student Engagement?” This focus provides an opportunity to tell the story of our schools and our work around student achievement, school participation, and positive school culture. We believe that students who are engaged are students who achieve academically, actively participate both inside and out of school, and contribute positively to the school culture.

As part of our communication process around our school planning work, each of our schools will present to the Board of Education.
