Team Building Is The Goal

Advisory Competitions Are Lessons In Teamwork

Each advisory participated in a series of competitive games this week during Pick Me Up (PMU). Matt Chimera, 201 Advisor, coordinated the activities this week and challenged students to work together to be successful in each game. The advisories were awarded points for each game or task throughout the week to encourage teamwork and communication.

The week began with each advisory being assigned a color and wearing a paper necklace of the same color. That necklace had to be worn at each PMU throughout the week. If an advisory did not have everyone wearing the necklace each day, they would lose points. Every advisory worked together to ensure no points were ever lost all week!

The challenges during the week included building a balloon tower, a wall sit, a ring toss and building a shelter out of only newspapers and tape. There are pictures on the next page for you to enjoy all of the great teamwork the advisories accomplished!
