Conference Allstate

It's an early Sunday morning on November 27, 1994. The Bluebird charter bus leaves Williamsville South High School for the Concord Hotel in Kiamesha Lake, New York. The New York State School Music Association Conference All-State students from Erie County are on their way to an experience of a lifetime.

I was fortunate enough to be one of those students, having received a 99% on a level six solo in the NYSSMA competition last June. At the end of a torturous six hour bus ride, we unloaded the bus and headed for the lobby. We then proceeded to obtain our meal tickets, All-State shirts, and room keys. Imagine over 800 people all trying to get room keys at the same time. Not a pretty sight.

But after the long wait, I finally got to my room. I had three roommates, all from different schools in Long Island. They were all very nice and I'm glad to have met them. Soon, we ate dinner. You would not believe the food they offered! Each night they had something different on the menu, aiming to please everyone.

Next came our first rehearsal. That was when I first met Dr. James Jordan from Westminster College. In all, we had eight rehearsals with him for a total of twenty-two hours in four days including a concert on Wednesday. His conducting ability allowed us to save our voices for the concert, and his humorous manner never made it boring. The long, hard hours put into the seven musical selections were well worth it. The concert was an explosion of musical talent. I will more than likely never be with another group of people with that kind of talent again, but if I had a chance to go back and do it again, I wouldn't change a thing.

— Ron Clifford, '95

We Does Real Good!

National Honor Society is, as always, an active part of the Ken East community. As part of the requirements, each member must have fifteen service hours and six hours of tutoring. The service hours can be obtained many ways. This year NHS members sold ornaments for the American Cancer Society at AM&A's, refreshments for Parents Anonymous at a Bills' game, participated in a walk-a-thon for Kids Escaping Drugs, danced the night away with senior citizens, and worked at the Induction Dinner.

NHS isn't just service work, though, we had fun in other ways. As a group, we went to a Blizzards' game and, of course, the college trip. National Honor Society is a fulfilling group to be a member of and no matter what the occasion, we always manage to make it memorable.

— Lauren Salomon

The induction ceremony climaxed when the inductees, bearing candles, pledged their loyalty to community, scholarship, leadership, and service.

During the NHS Induction, Jason Couvutsakis, caught up in the excitement of the night, shakes Mrs. Field's hand as she congratulates him.

Mrs. Hepper welcomes Kristie Golata into NHS.

It has been the goal of the Race Unity Club for the past five years to promote an environment of unity and diversity among the members of Kenmore East and its surrounding community. I have found that this club offers a channel through which frustrations may be vented and terrific new ideas formulated. Besides having interesting discussions about what concerns us most, we also find time to set up displays in school and produce the Black History Month Contest each February. The Race Unity Club offers an opportunity to come in contact with several different points of view to help us leave Kenmore East with an open mind.

Being in S.H.A.R.E. Club has been a wonderful experience for me. S.H.A.R.E. club is a group of students who spend time with the Special Ed. students at Kenmore East. We go places, have parties, and work the coat check at every dance and during the Craft Shows. Our advisor is Ms. Currier.

Being in S.H.A.R.E. has given me the opportunity to make new friends as well as become closer to some I already have. Spending time with the Special Ed. students has taught me to be more accepting of those who are different from me. Being part of S.H.A.R.E. Club has taught me that, although all people have different abilities and lives, we all want basically the same thing . . . a friend.

Loud And Fun

"Wake up Kenmore East, you're listening to K. E. Radio, the loudest thing in the morning." That's the way most of the DJ's in the Radio Club prefer to start the shows. The best thing is, K. E. Radio has never been as loud. The music played varies heavily because of the large amount of new types arising everywhere. What we play in the mornings and during the lunches varies from the grungy alternative groups like Nirvana to exploding punk rock bands like Green Day to the sultry sweet sounds of Boys II Men. A balance is always maintained. For the most part, however, you can tell that anyone who joins K. E. Radio has fun, which is really the point of all music, right?

Calling All Campers

Going camping was only one of the many things the Wilderness Club did this last year. The club coordinators, Mr. Allen and Mr. Smith, strived to make sure that the group experienced a variety of outdoor thrills. We did everything from camping to rock climbing in Canada. Along with these activities the member also sold beautiful environmental T-shirts and sweatshirts. We helped add to the school atmosphere a better understanding of the conservation and care of the environment. Certainly this is proof of how strong people will work to keep doing what they enjoy and to help the environment.

Field of Dreams

A Kenmore East pitcher hurls the ball towards the plate with tremendous speed.

The 1994 Kenmore East Boys Varsity Baseball team put forth the best season in Kenmore East history. Due to the deadly threesome of Scott Wilcox, Mike Mellott, and Scot Karstedt, the bulldogs advanced to the State Championship. The key to this great season was the preseason they had in Florida. This close knit group was probably the best Kenmore East has ever seen. This season also marked the first division title for Coach Marv Matteson. The Bulldogs had the honor of playing at Pilot Field and gave the crowd an amazing show with a ninth inning come-from-behind victory. The squad then advanced to the West Regional game, where they easily handled their opponents. The season didn't have a story book ending, however, but hopefully this year, with the return of several talented veterans, we will be back.

When I joined the Kenmore East track team last year, I didn't know what to expect. Would I fit in? Would I be an outcast? My fears were quickly subdued on the first day of practice when I was welcomed like family by a group of people I hardly knew. The family feeling was one of the great things about the team. People shared everything with each other. Food, walk-mans, advice, and in one extreme case, a pair of shorts were shared. We supported and stood up for each other. The friendships made during the season carried over into this year. The seniors are gone now, but the rookies will fill their void.

It wasn't all fun and games, however. The workouts were tough, but they paid off, and the weather wasn't always the greatest. Even with the bad parts, it was a rewarding experience that I'm glad I tried.

Softball

The trees rustled in the cool, evening breeze.
 Never before had I seen sights like these.
 so many people, yet I felt so alone.
 When I stepped to the plate, I was on my own.
 Just at that moment fear consumed my heart;
 All I had worked for could fall apart.
 But why was I doubtful, why was I blue?
 All of my dreams could soon come true!
 The anticipation of victory, the fear of defeat;
 To me, this is what makes life complete.
 Life is a game which we all must play;
 Happiness or sorrow, come what may.
 Though some play forefront and some sit the bench,
 There is but one victory we all must clench.
 When the game is over, and the bright lights go dark,
 Hope that, if anything, you've left your mark.
 Maybe not as a victor of a failure per se,
 But as a person some will look up to one day;
 For the game of life is played that way.

Boys Tennis & Golf

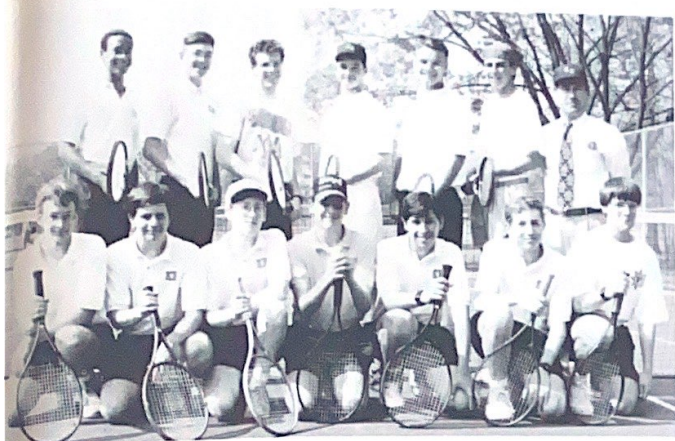

The bus struck a large bump, lifting all the tennis players a few inches off their seats, but the usual joyous cheer that often erupts after this type of occurrence was nonexistent. The team was on its way to face the most grueling mental and physical challenge of the season, the match at Nichols High School. Nichols had had a bad habit of going undefeated every year for as long as Bulldog coach Mr. Butler could remember. Rumor had it that this year the Nichols team was judging their victory by how fast they defeated their opponents. After what seemed like an eternity, the bus came to a sudden halt in the Nichols parking lot. Looking out the windows, we could see the over-confident Nichols players basking in their egos. Mr. Butler stood up in front of us and gave his usual abrupt pep talk, "Go out there and play a good match." This short speech was usually shrugged off without a thought, but in the face of an inevitable defeat, it suddenly became meaningful. The team seemed to be inspired with a new determination to endure any punishment that Nichols could hand out. That afternoon our entire team made an all-out effort to demolish the ego of Nichols. Hours later, during the ride home, we all felt good even though we had lost. We had proven to be worthy opponents, and we knew that Nichols might be a little less confident next time the Kenmore East Bulldogs pull up to the courts.

Gymnastics

Since our girls varsity gymnastics team consisted of only two people from Ken-East, Lindsay Becker and Julie Kreuder, we were forced to join up with the girls from Ken-West. It was very odd to be working with girls who don't go to our school, and who we don't see or talk to every day, but it was a new and exciting experience. It allowed us to meet new people and see what it was like to be around girls from a different school environment. Together, we had a dynamic season with 2 wins, 4 ties and 5 losses. We placed third in our division at Sectionals, yet unfortunately, nobody was lucky enough to advance to States. We were coached by Irene Leary and Colleen Fatta. Buffalo Turners gymnastics club was generous enough to let us hold practices there every day after school.

Tennis & F. Hockey

Being on the Kenmore Varsity field hockey team was an unusual experience. I spent the first eight weeks of school wearing a Kenmore West jersey, because we couldn't get new uniforms. My teammates didn't appreciate me too much, especially since I was the only one from East.

Riding on the bus was as strange as ever! We joined the Niagara-Orleans division, which meant that our away games were at least a 45-minute bus ride. We had a tendency to scream the whole way there and the whole way back over the blaring radio. The more we screamed, the less obvious it became that we lost. We never once had a bus driver who could tell the difference between our wins and our losses.

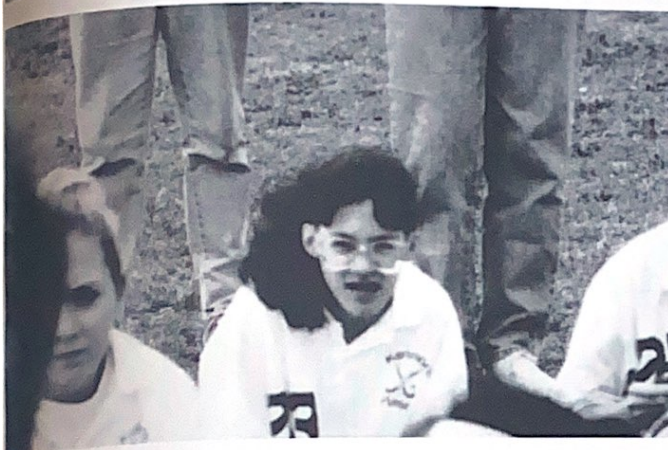

All in all, the season was great. The best games were identified with more screaming than you'd expect from 28 girls who just lost, not that you'd know it.

Cross Country

I've been doing cross-country for five years now — so long I can't even remember why I started. And people have been asking me for just as long why I would voluntarily run 3 miles in terrible weather (it always rains at cross-country meets) and in skimpy shorts if I wasn't being chased by large dogs. I've never actually thought of a good reason, but now that I'm a senior, I can think of quite a few.

One of my favorite aspects of the sport is the fact that there is nothing more satisfying than going on a long, slow run on a beautiful fall day after the stress of school. It provides a great opportunity to gossip and complain to your team members between heavy breathing.

Another reason I like cross-country is that we're the only fall sport that competes in all weather. I love coming into the school sopping wet and covered in mud after winning a meet; I feel like I finally accomplished something. And I don't really like running in the snow, but I do like bragging about it.

So the people are a little obnoxious sometimes and the hills and wind can get to you, but cross-country is really quite a satisfying sport.

Swimming

This year's girls swimming team had one of their best seasons ever. Led by Coaches Traci Marinello and Kim Eaton, the team lost only three meets, two of which were lost by a margin of less than six points. The highlight of the season was breaking a 15-year losing streak against rival Kenmore West at home. Several school and pool records were also broken during the meet.

Jeni Broderick was voted MVP and was victorious in two events in both the NFL Championships and Sectionals. She also qualified for the state meet, where she finished in the top eight of those two events. Amy Gage and Melissa McCartney also made the top six at Sectionals. Marley Kreuder helped the team throughout the season by turning in many first place finishes in diving, and then moved on to Sectionals.

This year's team was very young and the girls show much potential for the future. Everyone looks forward to breaking more records next season. Congratulations to everyone!

Strike The Competition

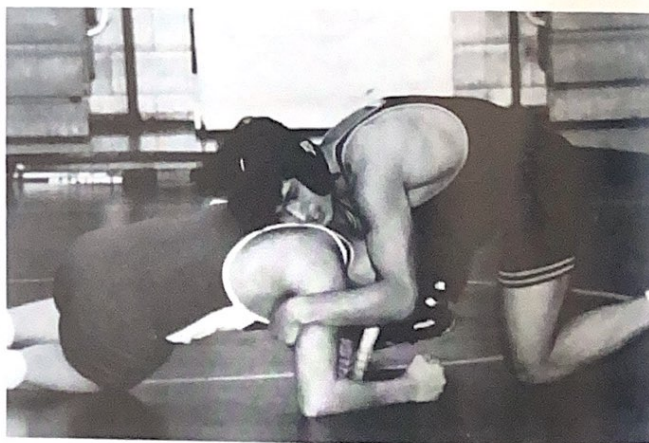

The Kenmore East boys and girls bowling teams are into another year of fierce competition. The bowlers face tough opponents on a regular basis, and always put up a fight. The past hasn't had too much good fortune, but the future seems to hold some prospects.

The boys squad has improved much from last year's version, and looks to have a shot at the sectionals. The boys are led by co-captains Kevin Pohlman and Scott Kunkel. Jim Sisson and Nathan Wieworski are posting strong numbers, as well as Mike Dolan and Pete Gagliardo. Danny Cox, Brian Little, David Caruana, and Brian Cough finish off a strong lineup. The team has posted some impressive victories so far, and looks to be able to chalk up several more before the season's end.

The girls are not having as much success this year, but they still put up a great effort. They are somewhat shorthanded, having only three bowlers on the team, but they give it their all every time out. The team consists of captain Nancy Bogdan, Lisa Scarafia, and Erica Jozwiak. These competitors are fighting an up-stream current and doing an admirable job.

This year's team is looking to be a force this season and in seasons to come. It appears as if Kenmore East bowlers will be able to smile again in the near future.

The leadership of coaches Gary Tocke and Dennis Cianfrini provided the indoor track team with another successful season. Captains Gabrielle Bero, Marion Pohle, Jason Couvutsakis, and Matt Wood set a strong example for the rest of the team.

The team traveled to many colleges to compete, including Fredonia State, Buffalo State, and the University of Buffalo, and always turned in top performances. Gabrielle Bero shattered the school record in the 300 meters, and Kathy Wiltberger continuously broke records in the shot-put. There were also a number of new faces on the team this year, who were keys to the success of the team. Indoor trackies look forward to an even more productive season next year.

Indoor track is more than just the thrill of competition. It's about having fun with and enjoying the company of your friends. It's about the donuts the coaches buy for the long bus rides, and — if you're lucky — the juice to go with them. Most importantly, it's about knowing that your friends will always be there to support you, even when you have a bad day.

Living In The Aftermath

It was closed outside my window, it was locked outside my door.
Everything that happened,
it can not be any more.
I will move on, along in time,
taking everything that's mine.
Even though I love you still,
I don't think I'll be fine.
I will try to walk away,
with memories at hand.
'Cause you were the only one,
that could ever understand.
I never dreamed I could love someone,
as much as I do you.
I never had to say the words,
because you always knew.
I try and try to talk to you,
you won't let your heart listen.
The time with you, the love we shared,
all these things, I'm missin'.
Outside of the silhouette,
the leaves that blow away.
Can't you hear me beg and plead,
I'm asking you to stay.
If you need me, just look inside, that place, it will appear.
You'll find me there, without a doubt,
it will all be crystal clear.
I want to be a part of your life, even after I was rejected.
"But the one thing I was longing for,
it could not be excepted."

Kelly Reddish, Grade 10

When it is hard to say good-bye, you just put your head down and cry.
Your hands filled with many tears, scared of hopes and dreams turning to fears.
Think of all the good times we had,
never any really bad.
Smile each day,
when you think and play.
Hope all your wishes will come true, just think of our favorite color, the color blue.
I will miss you very much,
how sometimes sad it is for such.
How I love you oh so much,
will never forget that certain touch.
Please don't cry,
I know it's hard to say good-bye.....

HIGH SCHOOL YEARS

Freedom from worries, all oppressions;
Broken chains, no depressions.

Carefree living, hanging loose;
only problem, hairspray/or mousse?

The days get shorter, the nights longer;
gotta grow up, gotta be stronger.

Summer days gone, winter's here;
you're not alone, have no fear.

Spring break, don't want it to end;
Florida beaches, a new friend.

Graduation draws near to us;
many tears, lots of fuss.

Saying good-bye, how to start?
Dearest friends, now to part.

Soccer, football, cheerleading, track;
Walk away, don't look back.

Old memories, bring you to tears;
Gone forever, our high school years.

Keri Jehle, Grade 12

Time will Tell

Fallen tears
Like stars from the sky
A reason known
Wished to be forgotten
Time will tell.
The future is what it holds.
The love you knew
Now is lost
Hard to let go
To something so precious
Can love ever be so strong?
Time will Tell
Let the story be full of smiles
Full of love
Everything that once was The days will pass to months and months to years
There will always be time.
There will always be love.

Amanda D'Ambrosio, Grade 12

along for the ride
i stand by your side just out of reach of the onlookers once held in dear i struggle to stay near as usual feeling forgotten simple reassurances mislead me like trances outlandish overlays i blindly believe blackened cycle of visions a fire and provisions i carry myself through my own pain

I go to school in a cut-up shirt and holed jeans.
I go to a public school. There is no dress code, yet it seems that everybody dresses the same, except my friend and me. We're made to feel like outcasts. The students say they're not prejudiced, and, yet, they jump students that are different. I don't mean black or white. I mean different in the way you dress or because you listen to a different kind of music. I'm made to feel like dirt! They don't know me and yet they think I do drugs. They don't hang out with me and yet they think I steal. They don't know me, so they hate me! All because I go to school in a cut-up shirt and holed jeans. Why can't the students see the beauty in everyone, as I do?

Rememories
 Leave.
 But never say
 "Goodbye".
 Part to different places and remember the good times.
 Go with the thought of everyone as they are,
 who they are,
 and most of all,
 what they helped you to become.
 Never say
 "Goodbye".

Kelly Umlauf, Grade 9

Future Dreams
 You are the dream of my night,
 you bring into my life,
 a love that burns bright.

You're always there, whenever I need someone near.
 To catch my falling tears.

Only the future knows,
 what will happen to us.
 If we live or live together.

But someday in that time,
 If we're not together,
 we will meet again.

And when we do,
 I hope to say to you,
 I do.
