

SPIRIT . . . an intangible sensation, an effervescence bubbling forth from secret wellsprings in each of us . . .
 A sudden cry ripping, unaware, from one silent mouth
 to join the fervent cheer of the crowd;
 the inexplicable delight in victory,
 the stoicism and support in defeat . . .

Pam Schillo

A winning team, a screaming crowd,
 The spirit high,
 the students proud.
 Committees, sign-ups, posters made
 The hard-won victory flag displayed.
 A sell-out show, an all-star cast
 Our hopes fulfilled,
 Our goals surpassed.

"... our guiding light today..."

Team teaching, I.B.M. report cards, advanced placement classes—East is changing!

Leave school at noon? Why certainly, if you're a member of the work study program. This year fifty seniors and twenty juniors participated in this course. A minimum of twelve credits was necessary to enter the program, and participants received a credit for the work study class and a credit and grade from their employers.

Large scale teaching was expanded to include typing along with history and all of the sciences. Special guest speakers, such as Professor Gerhard Falk and Mr. Laszlo Szabo, added interest to the team teaching history classes.

After wading through more than 1000 college applications for the class of '66, the guidance department led the class of '67 on the same path through individual counseling. Visiting college representatives aided them by giving the students glimpses of college life.

Seniors relied heavily on the guidance staff to help them in their college selection and application. Through visiting college representatives, students gained knowledge of life on the campus. As the school year ends, we look back to the dedication of our counselors with gratitude.

"... and spirit too"

From chess to aviation, from nursing to art—the diversity of interests of the student body at East is matched only by the wide variety of clubs offered here. One organization in particular, the Booster Club, has proven to be enthusiastic and school spirited. Its members worked diligently on sports events making programs and selling refreshments. They were also responsible for initiating the Valentine's dance at which Roger King was named King of Hearts; Jeff Gemmer, Lord Valentine; and Norm Davern, Prince of Love.

The Key Club has continued to be our school's most noteworthy service organization. The Hospitality Committee acquainted new students with the building while the Information Squad helped to direct visitors about the school. Ushers were made available for many school functions, and the scrap book and show cases were kept up to date by this group. The Key Club has been successful in its tireless effort to improve Kenmore East.

This year as the halls became a little fuller and the lunch lines grew a little longer, new interests were brought to East. To accommodate these interests, many new groups were added to our already large club program. The newly established groups are the Chess, Humanities, and Photo Service Clubs. These have all made impressive beginnings.

The Student Forum was constantly engrossed in all school functions. The Blue-Gold Weekend, sponsored by the Student Forum, was one of the most successful activities of the year. Excitement heightened as the days of anticipation reached a final success. In December the Forum sponsored the "Winter Nocturne." It was well attended by both faculty and students. And who could forget the thrill of watching "My Fair Lady?" Truly it was a year of success, one which exemplified the heights an organized student body can reach.

"... bring honor to her name."

Precedents were set and old records were surpassed this year. The Class of 1966 was ready and glad to establish superior standards in scholarship, leadership, and service, and the other classes responded whole-heartedly.

Outstanding quality, participation, and attendance are the passwords of this year's graduating class. "Senior Starnite," and the fine production of "Life With Father" both excelled in showmanship. "The Last Flower," "Senior Show" painted on the windows, and "Dr. Bartlett's Beneficient Balm" recall this class' vitality.

Proudly, new Honor Society members sang their Alma Mater at the close of the induction ceremony. The receiving line, lovely dresses, and our dance band created the memorable Senior Tea which followed, sponsored by the Junior Class.

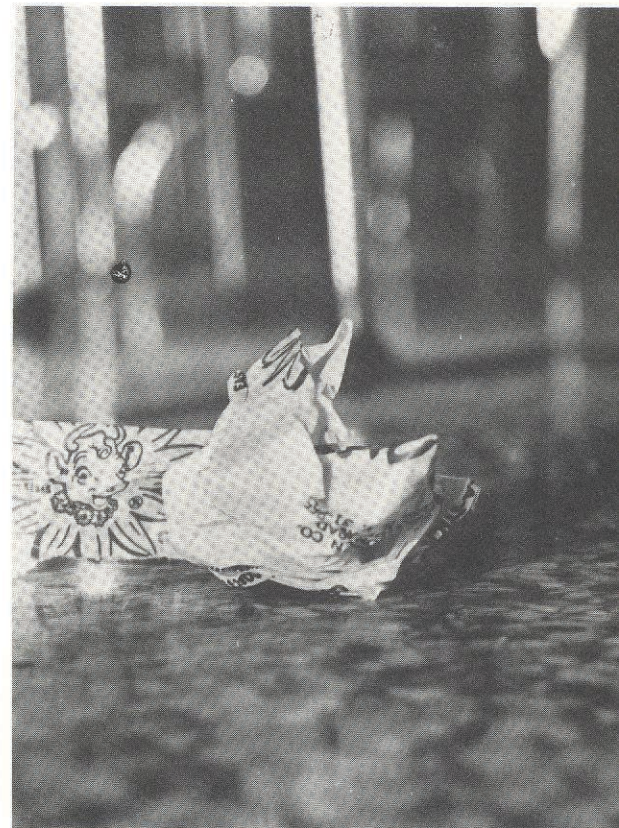

Junior Carnival in May? Naturally! The Class of 1967 continually strives to initiate new ideas. Amid pastel-colored fish nets, gaily decorated booths, and laughter, Carnival '67 whirled to its success.

It was the Juniors who fully experienced the intense excitement and suspense surrounding the Student Forum election. However, for the Seniors, it will always be "Happy Days are Here Again" and "vending machines in the cafeteria" which constituted the best campaign ever.

In the spring, the Sophomores culminated all their talent and energy in a terrific variety show. By plunging into academics, dramatics, Student Forum, athletics, and many clubs, they became known and respected.

The entire student body showed that it could perform as a unit in November when the Blue-Gold weekend car parade and float competition attracted more participants than any of East's previous big weekends.

As each group eagerly grasped for a separate identity, they were also united by numerous common interests or problems: "Victory, Victory is our cry!" "Oh, that test can't be today!" "Where's the Student Forum meeting?" "Are you going to the first A.F.S. breakfast?" . . . Our worthy aims and deeds did proclaim our loyalty to Kenmore East this year, and once again we brought honor to her name.

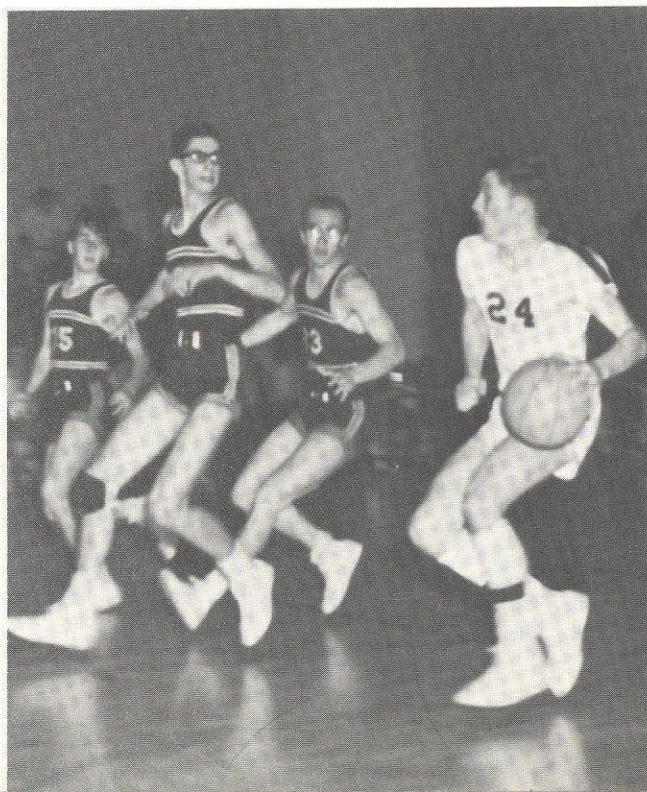

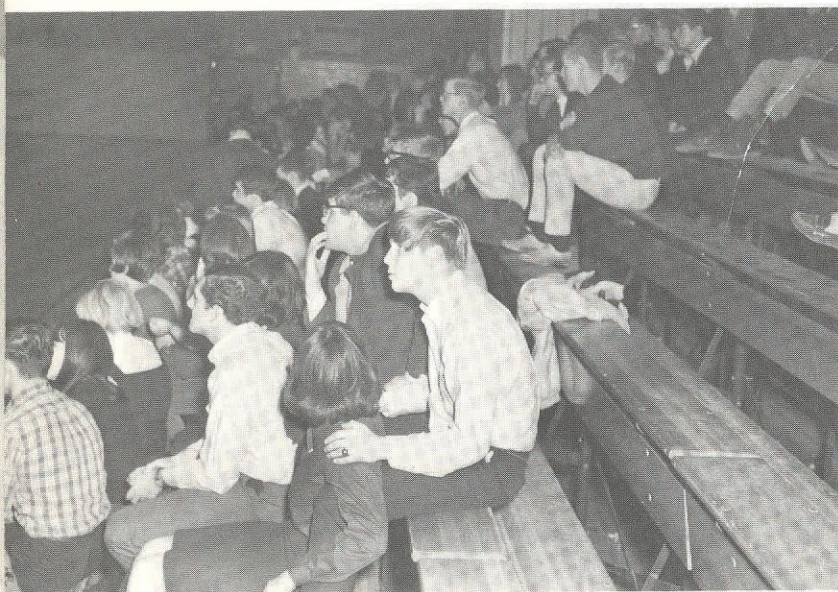

"victory! victory! is our cry!"

Ability, zeal, and desire pushed Kenmore East's varsity squads on to victory after victory in this past year. Pride and spirit were characteristics prevalent in all teams and in every participant. Each boy accepted his responsibility and fought each game with a vivacity that others found hard to conquer.

For the second straight year our football Bulldogs crushed a tough Kenmore West opposition. To win this game it took power, drive, and hours of hard work, as did all Kenmore East's triumphs. Our soccer team also had a gratifying season; Co-captain Pete Reist tied the league scoring record. The cross-country team combined vigor and agility to win themselves the NFL title for the fourth time in five years.

Throughout the winter East's ardent supporters were again led by the fine squad of cheerleaders and majorettes. They helped push the teams on to new and greater heights. The gymnastic, basketball, and rifle teams, never slowing after defeat, towered over other schools. Our bowling team was undefeated, and our well-rounded wrestling team won the sectional championship. Each athlete of Kenmore East possessed such enthusiasm and devotion that even the coaches were surprised with the results.

At the end of the spring sports season we were able to recall many victories. The baseball, track, golf, and tennis squads have all brought noteworthy fame and glory to our school. It takes effort to earn a varsity letter in any sport. The "Bulldogs" exemplify the spirit of Kenmore East, and we appreciate their efforts when the victory flag once again waves over our school.

principal's message

As the present academic year draws near to its completion, members of the 1966 senior class of Kenmore East High School will soon be graduating and going their separate ways. Over the past three years this class has demonstrated consistently that spirited action is one of its predominant characteristics.

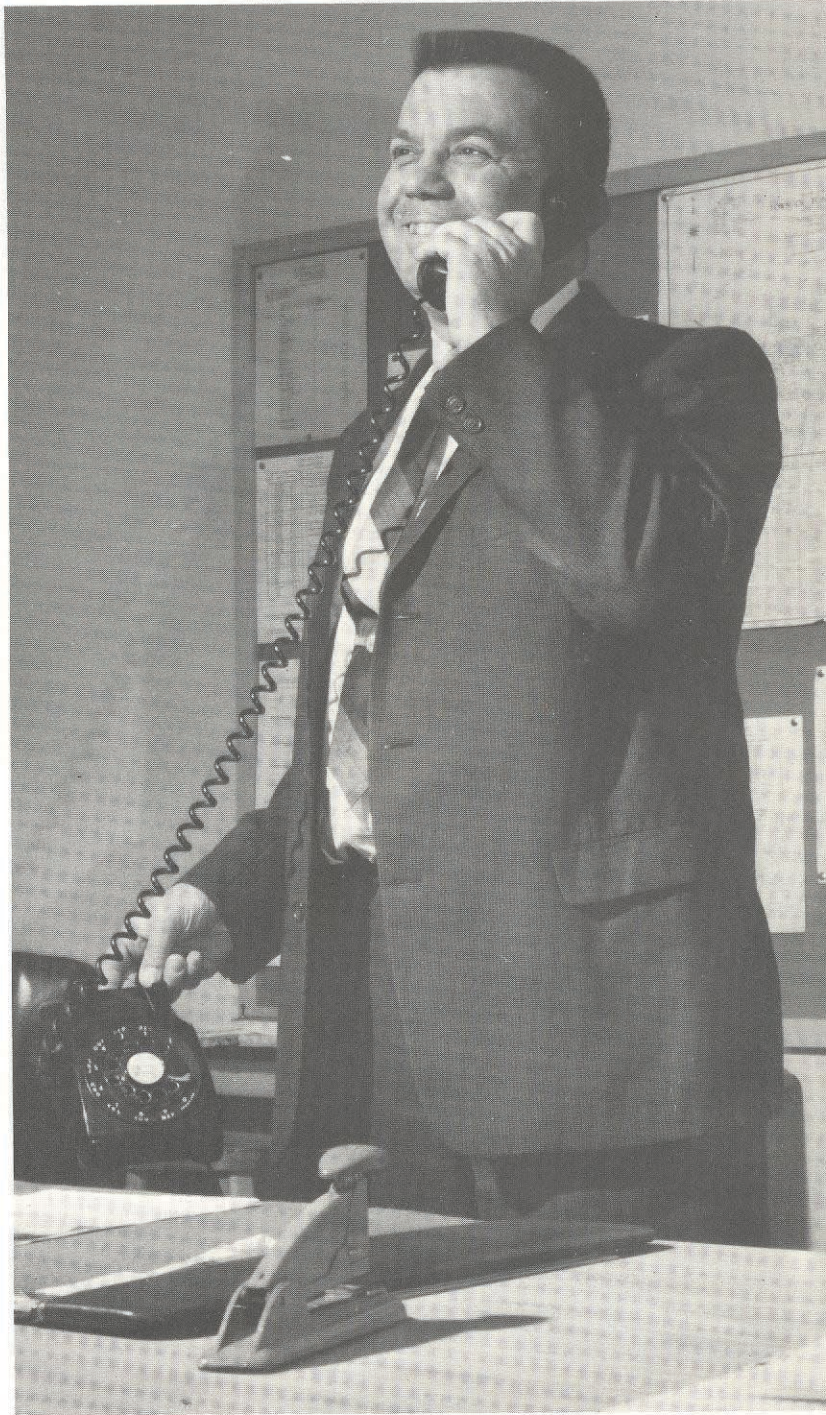

This action has been evidenced, first of all, in outstanding leadership on the part of many; in spirited enthusiasm on the part of all. A diversity of activities has been so carefully planned, so well-executed, and so loyally supported that future classes will remember and emulate the achievements of this class.

The class of 1966 has also inspired new traditions; it has provided a climate of growth in the school. Most important of all, it has established an impressive record academically. For these contributions the administration, the faculty, and the student body will long remember the class of 1966 as the class which had "School Spirit," a most suitable theme for its yearbook.

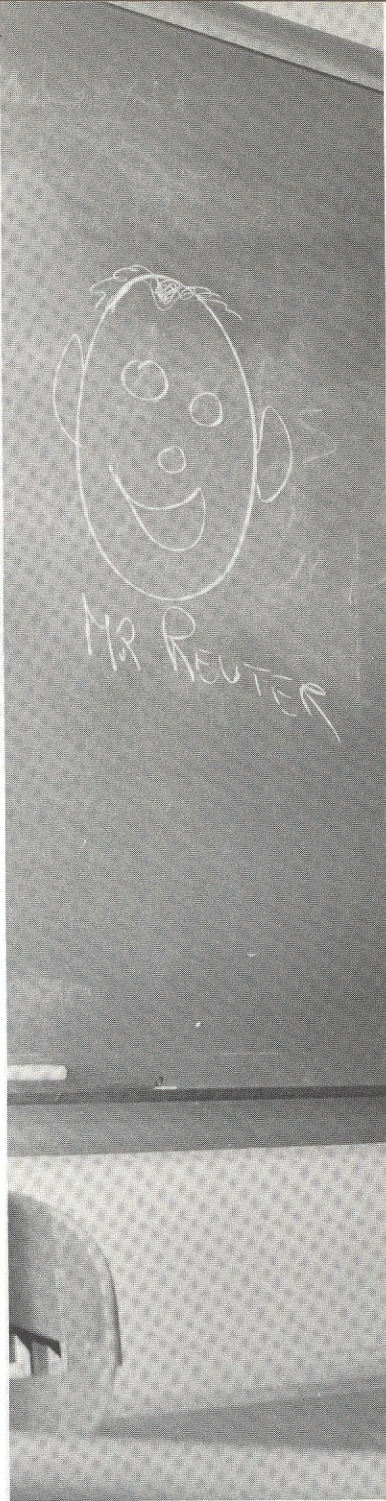

The administration and I certainly hope that as the members of this class leave Kenmore East and become influential members of other groups, their loyalty, their enthusiasm, their dedication, and their efforts will not wane. Real success and satisfaction of accomplishment are measured by attitude, by effort, by enthusiasm, and by involvement.

To each member of the senior class of 1966, then, we extend our congratulations for an excellent contribution, and our best wishes for success in the pursuits that will follow graduation.

 Each mind, each muscle attuned to every other . . .
 Each individual striving toward a common goal . . .
 A crowd roars and the air explodes, Charged by spirit, competition,
 and desire . . .

Judi Fitzsimmons

The Challenge—of teamwork, of sharing the pride,
 Of putting all personal glory aside . . .
 Of winning, of losing, of playing fair
 Makes each player earnest and keenly aware.
 The primary and the most valued rule:
 "To uphold the high standards of my school."

junior varsity sports

Junior Varsity teams form the basis for future varsity squads at Kenmore East. The will to win, team spirit, and personal pride are characteristics which are established in the participants.

The "Little Gold" teams of 1965-66 showed great promise for future varsity squads. In the fall the J.V. football, soccer, and cross-country teams all had excellent winning records. The "Little Gold" swimmers, wrestlers, and basketball players showed maturing talent during the winter, while last year's baseball and track junior varsity squads also came through with many victories. No matter what his task, every player on each of these teams gave 100% in every contest. Kenmore East's high standards should be upheld in future years with the development of this well-rounded talent.

girls' athletic association

The Girls' Athletic Association is comprised of all the girls who participate in intramural sports. Under this program guided by Miss Mackett and Mrs. Wiegand, the G.A.A. has instilled the girls with lively spirit and enthusiasm. Field hockey and soccer teams are organized during the fall months. In the winter, basketball and volleyball, refereed by the officials' club, prove to be the favorite sports among the girls. The bowling team, swimming team, and gymnastics club are also supported by the girls in the winter season. Swimming leaders aid pool instructors in teaching principles of swimming. The predominate spring sports are badminton and baseball. Girls skilled in these fall, winter, and spring sports are chosen to represent Kenmore East in interscholastic competition.

This past year the girls' synchronized swimming team presented its second annual water show, "Winter Wonderland." The success of the water show exemplified the hard work and determination of the entire G.A.A.

... perpetual transition of ideas, goals, interests;
 Each decision faced and met as a crossroad appears and a path is chosen.
 New victories soon become past glories on the journey toward fulfillment . . .

Judith Fitzsimmons

Although for a time lost in the crowd
 It is they who form the mass.
 Their spirit lifts them tall and proud
 Through all which comes to pass.
 It seems with every effort made Success beckons, lures them near.
 They answer the call unafraid,
 For the prize, to them, is dear.

. . . one contributing to the spirit of the whole;
 an important link
 in a strong, enthusiastic chain;
 an individual, heady
 with the sensation of newly acquired prominence;
 a youth who,
 finding himself at the zenith of one existence, must reach for an even brighter height . . .

Judith Fitzsimmons

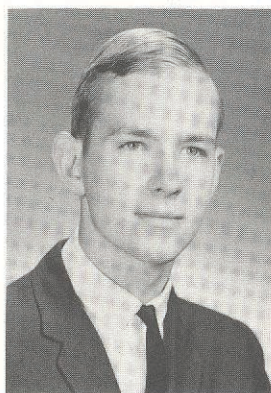

A certain spirit, gleaming gold,
 Awaits the future still untold.
 Enduring memories of the past—
 Foundations which will always last.

A smile, a tear, a backward glance,
 Our last class play—a final dance.
 Each hall is empty, hollow, bare,
 But echoing footsteps linger there.

. . . The close of a year . . .
A goal achieved,
a link
to greater knowledge:
Not an ending . . .
But a beginning.
Imagined corners disappear . . .
Infinities arise . . .

Pam Schillo

We sought a mountain and we climbed.
The climb was rough and steep.
And when we reached the top, the valley
then was ours to keep.

We choose to abdicate the claim
We struggled to acquire.
For from this apex
we can see Another mountain, higher.

Carol Fremy
