Baby Pictures Done By:

Sarah Kretz

You are an 80's baby if

Snap bracelets were always getting you in trouble at school

Friendship bracelets were ties that couldn't be broken.

You've read Nancy Drew, The Hardy Boys, The Babysitters Club, or Sweet Valley High.

You know all the words to "Ice Ice Baby."

You had a crush on one of the New Kids on the Block members.

You wanted to be on Star Search.

You've puff painted your own shirt at least once.

You owned a doll with 'Xavier Roberts' signed on it's butt. (CabbagePatch Kids!!)

You know the profound meaning of "Wax on, Wax off", not to mention the hand motions.

You were upset when She - ra, Princess of Power, and He Man were cancelled.

You can remember watching "Full House" and "Saved by the Bell" for endless hours.

You hold a special place in your heart for Back to the Future.

You know where to go if you "wanna go where everybody knows your name."

You wanted to be a Goonie because Goonies never say die.

You remember Madonna in her cone stage.

You knew "The Artist" when he was humbly called "Prince".

You remember when ATARI was a state of the art video game system.

You remember M.C. Hammer.

You can still sing all of the words to the "Fresh Prince of Bel Air" rap.

You own any cassettes.

You owned a pair of L.A. Gear, Keds, or Converse tennis shoes.

You know what animal Indiana Jones hates.

You have ever pondered why Smurfette was the ONLY female smurf.

You can sing or hum the theme of Zoobilee Zoo.

You ever had a Swatch Watch.

*The Jetsons

You actually spent countless hours trying to perfect the "Care Bear stare".

You had Wonder Woman or Superman underoos.

You thought that Transformers were more than meets the eye.

You spent hours in the basement building and re-building Lego cities.

Big wheels and bicycles with streamers were the way to go.

With your pink portable tape player, you sang back up to Debbie Gibson.

"Party like it's 1999" seemed SO far away!!

Only moments in time, held alive for an eternity. Our memories will live forever...

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times..." -Charles Dickins

We have spent the last four years of our lives together... We have grown, we have shared, and we have become friends. Now we cross the stage into the rest of our lives, together... If we ever meet again is not for us to say, but whether we laugh or cry, looking back will remind us of the lessons learned, together ...

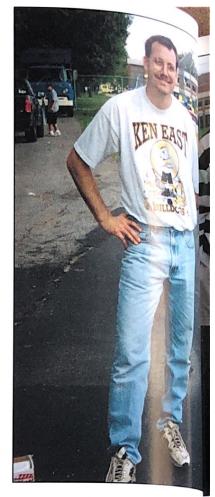

Goodbye and good luck to the class of 2000.

1. Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Corcoran stop watching the game for a minute to pose for a picture.

2. Marie Vargo and Julie Kolb show off their happenin' threads for 80's day.

Time Rolls By

Ahhhh, the smell of hotdogs, popcorn, and food being sold at the concession stand. Football games have become full of spirit and support from students and others. Painted faces, blue and gold clothing and other items can always be seen in the crowd. Dedicated administrators and teachers show up to root on our team every year. The week before the "big" Homecoming game, Spirit Week, is full of fun and creative ways to show your support. Dressing up in your wackiest outfits according to each days' theme is a must. Plus, no matter whether the team wins or loses they are still loved and the effort wasn't wasted. This year we tore up the football field against Lewiston-Porter. With amazing plays by Paul DeSantis and Pat Finch, the Dogs were able to pull ahead and win. Way to go Dogs!

"Homecoming: We FINALLY won!"

1. Katherine Quantteini, Kelly Dunkowski, Amanda Hausle, Erin Malecki, and Mary Hammel stop to pose for the yearbook in their retro 80's clothes.

3. Colleen Wyman shows off her Hula dress and traditional lai on Hawaiian day, the most popular dress up day.

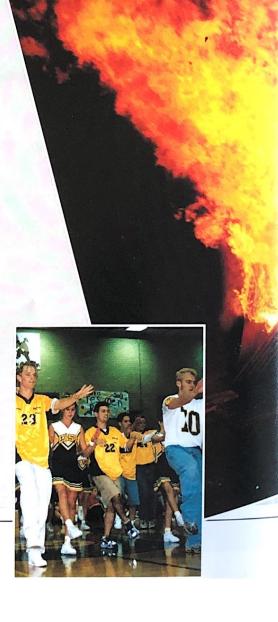

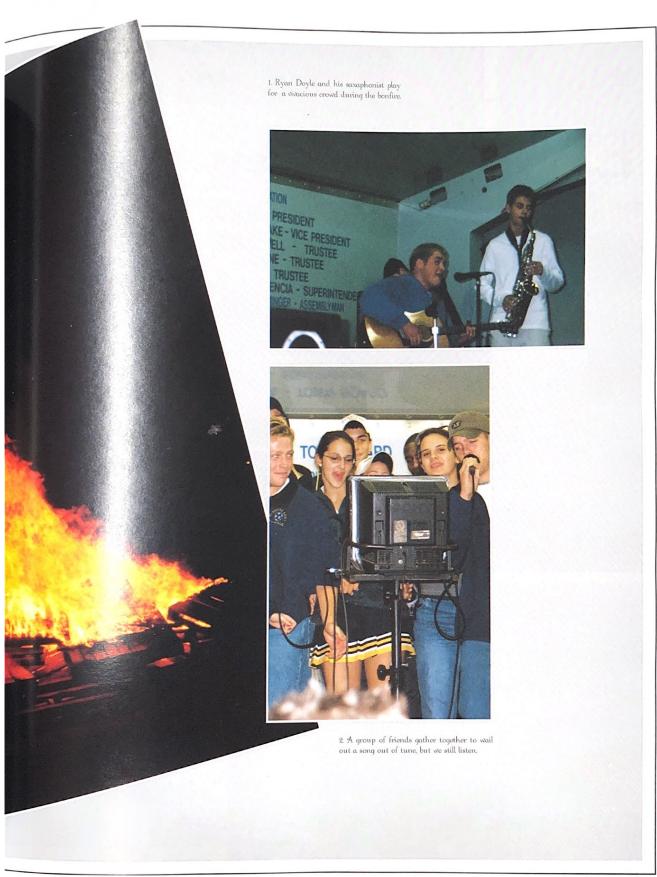

As the Leaves Fall

When entering school for the first time in the Fall, things are just as you left them. Walking through the halls forces you to reminisce about the year before. But as soon as you know it, the first pep rally is rolling by, and you find yourself wearing your blue and gold clothing. The excitement of the pep rally builds with the "pieing" of teachers and the cheer-leaders' routine. Then the sun sets and you are planted in front of the stage listening to the bands before the bonfive starts. How could you forget the students "attempting" karaoke! Kenmore East's school spirit ignites as the days progress and the leaves fall.

- 2 The bonfive burns moments in time, while students stand around watching sets on the stage.
- 3. The cheerleaders and some sports players join together to put on an amazing showhey guys where's your cheerleading uniforms?).

Natural Helpers

Natural Helpers, a peer education program, assists teens with everyday problems. Creating a caring atmosphere in which students are valued and welcomed at Kenmore East is a goal of the program. Specifically the Natural Helpers Program is designed:

- •To help young people develop the capability to intervene effectively with a troubled friend.
- •To help young people develop the capability to choose positive ways of taking care of themselves.
- •To help young people develop the capability to improve their school and community.

Over the summer the students went on an overnight retreat to the Whispering Pines Conference Center. Specific activities the students worked on at the retreat included role-playing, problem solving, trust, cooperation/teamwork, and effective communication strategies to help fellow students resolve conflict peacefully.

The Natural Helpers attribute their success to Mrs. Frey's dedication and leadership. Follow up training and ongoing meetings are coordinated by staff advisors Miss Breehey, Mr. Corcoran, Mrs. Marabella, and Mr. Voght throughout the school year.

Opening of the Media Center!

Mr. Lasch takes full advantage of the new IBM computers available in the school library.

Mrs Lynn Marabella and Mrs Cathy Peszko have been the loyal pioneers of the Learning Center for the past five years.

As the Learning Center starts off its fifth year with a bang, more students than ever discover what a valuable resource lies right in the back of our own library...

After many months of planning, dreaming and hard work, the Kenmore East Learning Center opened its doors in September of 1994. Since then the center has experienced many exciting changes. In September of 1999 we celebrated the opening of a brand new location for the center. As part of the Library Media Center, the Learning Center has access to the new technology at Kenmore East. We are members of the team of professionals that assists students in meeting their academic requirements for graduation.

The center is staffed by Mrs. Lynn Marabella, Coordinator, and Mrs. Cathy Peszko, Aide. We also have various subject area teachers in the center throughout the day. Along with teachers providing academic support, there is also tutoring available through the Peer Tutoring Club. This program has been most successful and many of the students at Kenmore East have utilized this service.

We look forward to the center's growth and development over the next several years. Kenmore East is a community of learning and the Learning Center is here to assist the students in meeting the requirements needed for graduation. We open our door everyday to welcome the students and community. Stop in and see us!

Mrs. Marabella doesn't smile in time for the photographer. She is caught in the moment explaining to a visitor the numerous advantages of the Learning Center(above)

Fun, fun, fun! That's what I think of when I vemember being in Ski Club. Ski Club meets eight Tuesdays throughout the wintertime at Holiday Valleywhere students either ski, snowboard or even ski-board. If you've never set foot on the slopes before this is a great opportunity to learn to ski because free lessons are included with every visit to Holiday Valley. More and more people are starting to realize how much fun Ski Club really is. In the past four years Ive seen the club grow a lot. This year was a great and very memorable year. -Jim Fink

Mock Trial

Mock Trial is a wonderful opportunity to further one's understanding of the law, court procedures, and our legal system. Club members develope basic life skills such as listening, speaking, reading, and reasoning. In addition, Mock Trial serves to heighten career consciousness for law-related professions. Past cases have dealt with issues regarding sexual harassment, substance abuse, child welfare, and computer tampering. Mock Trial is a personally rewarding experience to all those students, teachers, attorneys, and judeges involved.

Wilderness Club

Throughout the year Wilderness Club has been involved in many activities. Some of the activities that students of Kenmore East are involved in are the backpacking trips in Pennslyvania, rock climbing in Kelso Ontario, recycling every Thursdays and recycling with the BOCES Work/Study Program every Tuesday. Wilderness Club is a very interesting way to get involved with the environment and meet new people. The three years that I have been involved with the Wilderness Club I have made many friends, learned the ways to camp including what not to bring with me, and how to climb a real cliff. It's been a very exciting three years and I hope that in the future more people will get involved. Thank you for the past years, Mr. Allen, Mr. Smith and the Wilderness Club new & old.

Costa Rican Exchange

The students that participated in the Costa Rican Exchange program realize the importance of discovering a new culture. The Kenmore East and Kenmore West students are able to experience first hand what is it is like to live in a different country. Taking in the sights and sounds of Costa Rica is a wonderful way to appreciate lives different from our own!

French Club

The French Club is dedicated to exposing students to the French culture. This year the club organized the reception for the students of the French Exchange Program and celebrated some of the typical French holidays, such as Mardi Cras. Students also share in cultural events such as seeing the show, "Phantom of the Opera." The French Club always participates in a service project benefiting a charitable cause.

One of the most rewarding clubs to join is Special Olympics. Olympics meets every Sunday between the months of February and May. Our main goal of practice is to get ready for the Erie County Special Olympics meet usually held at the end of May.

Anyone is allowed to join, so usually we have many participants. Everyone loves Track and Field. We help the athletes learn how to throw a softball, run, shotput, long jump and work on the stairmasters. It is important to encourage the athletes to do the best that they can do. It's a great way to meet new people and help people. That is what makes this club so worth joining.

MODEL UN

Ther Model UN Team went to two conferences this year. First, in October, was the Canisius conference. The other competition in March was at the University at Buffalo. At Canisius, the team excelled over many of the schools there. At the University at Buffalo conference we had a more difficult competition from other schools, but the team still had a good time. Several resolutions were passed from Kenmore East proving that important topics were given to us. The competition at Daemen College was quite enthralling. The Kenmore East team represented countries such as Botswana, Albania, Gabon, Morocco, Gambia and Algeria. Though the Kenmore East Model UN did not place at the Daemen College competition we did exceptionally well.

Many students wonder what they are supposed to do when their teacher's lesson made absolutely no sense to them. I am usually one of these students. If it was not for Peer Tutoring Club, I do not think that college would be a twinkle in my eye. This club allows students to enhance their education through the use of fellow students who care.

Peer Tutors are extremely beneficial because they can relate to the troubles of high school, understanding the challenges and pressures of others. Students need encouragement, understanding, and they need to know that people do care. With the right attitude from the students and patience from the tutors, they are able to succeed.

Peer Tutoring can be a positive experience for both the student and the tutor. If you are intersted in helping others learn or need assistance in a particular subject area, then Peer Tutoring Club is for you!

Booster Club A Time For New Traditions

Booster Club is an essential student organization which supports school sports, activities, and school spirit. The Booster Club sponsors many dances, fundraisers, and supports all school teams. This year the Booster Club began the annual Pep Assembly honoring not only sports teams but also clubs and organizations. Booster Club members believe that school spirit does not shine only on the athletic field. It is important for students to realize that fans are as cherished as athletes. Booster Club gives students a chance to meet many new people and make new friends.

The yearly bonfive is always a popular event.

How Teams Progress From Year To Year

Through the years at Kenmore East Senior High School, the baseball teams have progressed in different directions. Unfortunately the 1997 season was not one for the record books. Pat Finch was voted MVP. The sportsmanship award went to Rick Consentino, and the Mr. Bulldog award went to Nick Mendola. The next year, the team became somewhat better, their record being 9 -8. Before making their wins they continued losing with seventeen consecutive losses and three games lost in the last inning. Five straight games were won for the first time in two years with the help of Coach Jay Robbins. That year, Dave Glor took home the MVP award. Rick Consentino took the sportsmanship award once again, and Nick Mendola took the Mr. Bulldog award. As for the Varsity team, Coach Marv Matteson led the men to a 3rd place ranking in Western New York.

Father Time. Is he our friend or our foe? Time is our most precious commodity; once we spend it, we cannot retrieve it. Yet, it seems that the only constant in our lives thus far has been the ticking of the clock, and the dogged assurance that no matter what, the sun will always come up tomorrow. Sometimes, the minutes may go by like weeks and the days like years, but regardless, time goes by despite the trials and tribulations we endure. As high school draws to a close, how can we help but wonder if time really was on our side?

High school was a series of phases. There was a time to cry, and a time to smile. A time to talk and a time to listen. A time to make new friends and sometimes not to keep the old as well as we should have. A time to be gawky and a time to be sophisticated. A time to take your lumps and to take you parents' car without permission. There is always a period when we wish we were somewhere else, and a time when we realize this time in our lives is unique and special. There is a time to be bitter, and a time to restore our childlike belief in the good of mankind. There is a time to join clubs and a time to be alone. There are times you really don't like yourself, and times you are content with who you are and what you stand for. There are times you think that no one in the world could understand how you feel, and time when you feel understood. There are times when you think everything we learn in high school has no merit in the real world, and times that you realize it is just learning experiences and broadening horizons. Everything has its own cycle, its own time. A time to be having "the time of your life."

The years one spends in high school are the years we learn the most. We may not need the details of Stoichiometry, to know what a syntax is, who Aaron Burr was, or how to pinpoint the epicenter of an earthquake when we are 30, but at one time we knew. We have learned so much, and we will continue learning for the rest of our lives. When the dust settles, and we look back, it was indeed, the best of times and the worst of times.

LOVE

Many people take love for granted, wanting it yet not knowing what it is. It's not just something between two people, love is around all day every day. But people just don't understand or care to see it.

To live is to love.

To look at and believe in something mystical, to listen, to watch something so beautiful

To believe, to feel, to cry a tear

To laugh

To give a hug and get a hug, to have friendship

To trust

To need something so badly, to talk to anyone anytime, about anything

To never have to change yourself

To watch a sunset off the beach while listening and watching the waves on the perfect night

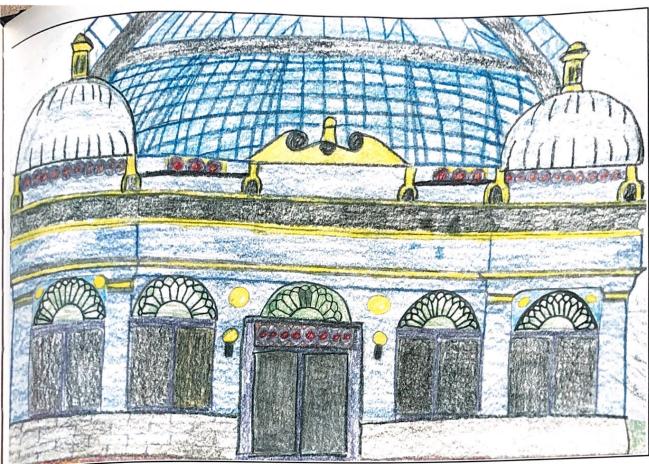

To smell a flower, to taste a piece of sweet fruit

To hear the birds tweet in the waking of the dawn

To watch the world work as one together in harmony

To bring out the best in anything possible.

To Love is to Live.

to touch, the world on your fingertips to taste, the nector of life on your lips to hear, the rumble of the earth to smell, the aroma of the sea to see, the vastness of the sky to think, there is no civilization without reason to learn, to answer the question why to dream, even though you will never fly to remember, the past makes you who you are to believe, the strength to go far to love, so you are human to trust, the ones you hold dear to prevail, accomplish where others fail to persevere, no giving up in the face of fear to endure because for some things there is no to try, to know what you can and can't do

Desolate

I can stand a thousand trials The strong will never fall But watching stars without you. My soul cries and I do fall.

Come back to me My heaving heart is full of pain I'll carry these memories now and forever I realize I took it all in vain.

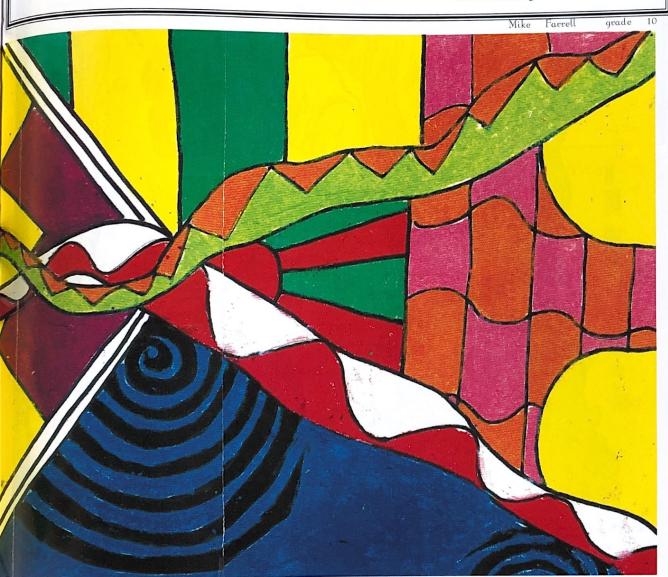

Never contemplating you were leaving I gave to you pure and true I had no anguish and strife I lost my heart to you.

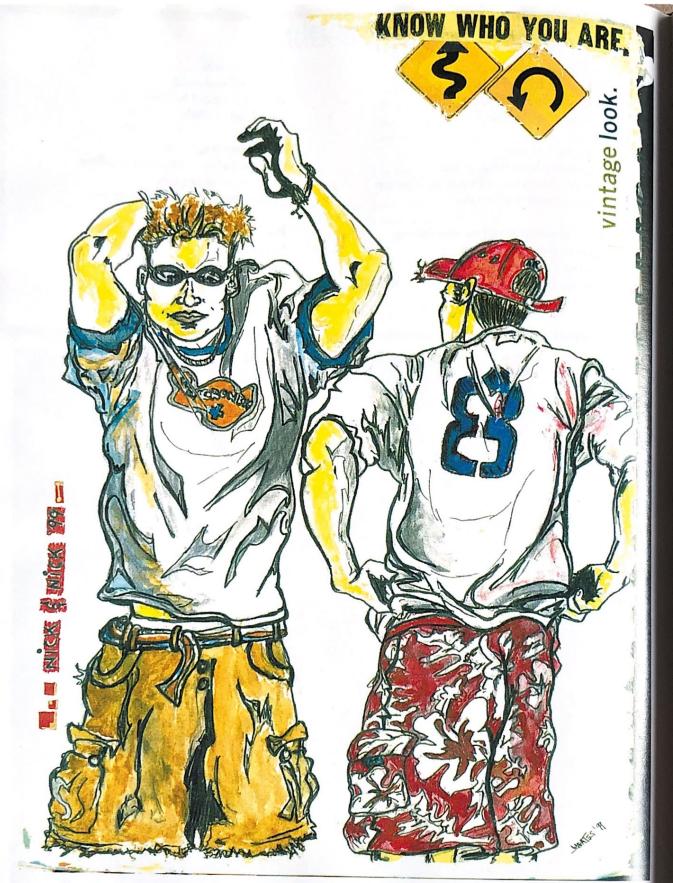

Touch me dear And I will endure all Being strong and in love I see I did not fall.

I will never forget you As I remember our last kiss goodbye It all seems so tangible I remember it still and begin to cry.

But I ask myself where are you now I miss you the most at times like this Laying desolate in bed I set adrift on memories bliss.

Hold Fast to Today

As the years go by we move on, from the high school to the great beyond. Treasuring the memories of those precious years. Holding fast to the ones that seem so dear. The echoing screams of pep-rally fun. The wonder if the football team has won, The joking and laughter filling the halls. The excitement of proms and snowballs. We'll never forget these innocent years. We'll remember them with longing tears. So to those who will leave, hold fast to today. And may leaving bring you happiness or dismay, We'll miss you and we'll never forget your ways, Just always remember ... hold fast to today!

Feeling It All Slipping Away

As one sport is over I go right on to the next one. When the first one began, my spirits were up: enthusiastic and ready to go, looking forward to practice after school and being with my teammates. Then as the seasons moved on, practices were harder and painful from injuries. But still I practice with 110% of the energy that I find within myself. Going to practice as a senior and a captain, I could feel it all slipping away, slowly... more and more everyday I don't want there to be any doubt in my mind, that I could have done any better along the way. Even though it will be all over one day, we want our last day to one of the happiest and most memorable days of our young lives. So we need to pick up our heads, think positive and keep up the hard work. So that in the end we will be living out our dreams. And that is what we truly have always wanted for ourselves. . . That is what we have been working toward for oh so

The Long Lonely Road

The long lonely road runs along the coast The road of my life, the one I fear most I come to a tunnel, with a small light at the end Maybe there is more, I like to pretend.

There's a dark cloud over me tonight I search for help, there's no one in sight My hand goes out and feels nothing but air, Γm tired, lonely, filled with despair.

There's a figure close by, I breathe a sigh of hope, That has to be someone who'll help me to cope The figure moves, and sees me there Then he turns around like he does not even care.

I finally reach the end of that cave But there's no one at the end to help me be brave, I continue to walk, a little slower this time My hope and soul I left behind.

Soon, I come to a light, under a golden tree I hear a singing bird chirping, and just being free I wish I could be that bird, with no worries at all I wish people could hear my desperate call

The bird flies down and lands on my hand Wraps his feet around me, forming a comfortable band When he leaves, he places something in my palm That makes me feel loved, peaceful and calm.

> Soon it's gone, the bird flew away All good things are never here to stay Even the best of people Will find one to betray.

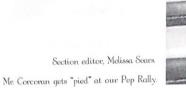

Here I am again, at a fork in my road And I remember God's promising code I see my friends making a right And I steer left with all my might.

I'm alone again, but I did what was right I'll never be out of God's sight Soon, I see open fields of sun, And I know the beginning has just begun.

Mr. "Sweet Lou" Reuter is truely a legend of Kenmore East High School. Working at Kenmore East since 1964, he has immortalized such phrases as "Young Tiger" and "Nugatory." Mr. Reuter's name is synonomous with the Kenmore East football team, even though they may not always have been #1 in the division. Mr. Rueter has touched innumerable lives, and has helped make Kenmore East the school it is today.

Marvin "Marv" Matteson

Mr. "Marv" Matteson has been teaching at Kenmore East for many years. He is one of the school's most beloved teachers. As coach of cross country, basketball, baseball and a teacher in the History department, he has made countless contributions to Kenmore East High School.

The dreadful events that plagued the life of John F. Kennedy Jr. painted an eeric backdrop for the tragic plane crash that killed him, his wife, Carolyn Bessette Kennedy, and her sister, Lauren Bessette. The bodies of the three victims were Kennedy and her sister, Lauren Bessette. An Overview of Events and Personalities Deadly earthquakes rocked the globe from Mexico to Taiwan, killing more than 21,000 in the span of four months. The year's most catastrophic earthquake occurred August 17 in Turkey, where nearly 17,000 people perished. The earthquake in Turkey measured 7.6 on the Richter scale and was followed by several serious aftershocks, which destroyed thousands of buildings and left hundreds of thousands of people homeless and living in tent cities.

All 217 passengers on EgyptAir Flight 990 were killed in October when the Boeing 767 crashed into the Atlantic off the Massachusetts coast. As search crews recovered pieces of the airliner from the ocean floor, speculation mounted that relief pilot Gamil al-Batouty intentionally crashed the plane. Information collected from the flight data recorder revealed that Batouty had turned off the engines and deployed the speed brakes. Although U.S. investigators suspected that Batouty had a death wish, no suicide note or evidence of terrorism emerged.

After predictions of the Apocalypse spurred years of preparations and precautionary spending in excess of $500 billion worldwide, the year 2000 came without incident. Y2K brought only minor glitches despite concerns over a technologically triggered Doomsday. As celebration of the new year subsided, there was growing criticism of the media, the government and a multitude of entrepreneurs for their part in the Y2K hysteria. Also at issue was the question of the new millennium, with purists arguing that it was still a year away.

Pokémon, Japan's cuddly cartoon critters, created a frenzy for children of all ages with toys, video games, comic books, trading cards and a feature film. The animated "pocket monsters" also invaded television with a weekly cartoon series. The Pokémon franchise exploded with more than $6 billion in sales worldwide, making it even more profitable than the entire video game industry.

Charles Schulz bid a fond farewell to millions of fans all over the world in January when retiring the beloved "Peanuts" comic strip he had penned for more than 50 years. Increasingly poor health made retirement necessary for Schulz, who had several small strokes and was suffering from Parkinson's disease and colon cancer. At the end of its historic run, "Peanuts" appeared in 2,600 newspapers in 75 countries and 21 languages, making it the world's most widely read comic strip.

The New York Yankees put the finishing touches on their "Team of the Century" designation by sweeping the Atlanta Braves in the World Series in October. By beating the Braves, the Yankees claimed their second-straight world championship sweep and the team's 25th World Series win overall. The Yankees are the only team in baseball history to chart back-to-back sweeps in the World Series, having done it three times.

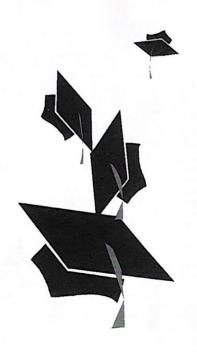

The U.S. women's soccer team battled for 120 minutes to a scoreless tie before defeating China, 5-4, on penalty kicks in the World Cup Final in July. The exciting win captured the heart of America, resulting in hero status for the team's 20 members and energizing women's sports overall. Additionally, the World Cup championship was credited for boosting soccer's marginal stature in the United States.

ABC's surprise hit "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" brought television full-circle from its infancy, when prime-time game shows were a mainstay. Hosted by TV's crafty quipster, Regis Philbin, the show became an instant phenomenon and gave ABC its first sweeps win in five years. The other major networks quickly followed suit with their own quiz-show clones, such as FOX's "Greed" and "Twenty One" on NBC.

In the highest scoring Sugar Bowl game ever played, top-ranked Florida State outlasted No.2 Virginia Tech, 46-29, to claim college football's National Championship in January. The Seminoles trailed the Hokies late in the third quarter before scoring 18 unanswered points for the win. Florida State ended the season with a perfect 12-0 record and became the first team to start and finish a season ranked No. 1 since the preseason ratings system began in 1950.
